

Cookies and Other Technologies

Erg Otoyol A.Ş. Websites and Applications cookies and other technologies. Cookies are small text files that are placed on your hard disk and then stored on your computer by a website.

Cookies help us understand better the Customer's/User's behaviour, provides information about the use of and visit to our website and help us improve our website.

Cookies are also used to remember the personal data of customers while Customers/Users are using the Website or the Application. So, we use our Website and Application more easily and can provide customised services.

If you want to disable cookies, you can make the necessary adjustments over your web browser and mobile device.

We collect some data automatically and store this data in log files. Such data contains Internet Protocol (IP) addresses, browser type and language, Internet service provider (ISP), referral and exiting websites and applications, operating system, date/time stamp and clickstream data.

We use this data to understand and analyse tendencies, manage the website, get information about the user's behaviour in the website, improve our products and services and as a whole, collect demographic data about our user base.

The provisions of this policy may be revised by Erg Otoyol A.Ş. if they consider it necessary by publishing in the Website in accordance with the provisions of the legislation. In case any one of these provisions is revised, the revision enters into force on the date of its publication.

You are free to agree to this Policy and provide your personal data fully at your disposal.

Please note that you agree to this policy by using our website, applications and/or services.